Gathering diversities

Five great reasons to attend Congress 2018 in Regina

1

From discovering why The Globe and Mail calls Regina “the Okanagan of Craft Beer” to walking, biking or canoeing in North America’s largest urban park – the city is one to explore!

2

Attend top-notch programming organized by your scholarly association, the University of Regina and the Federation centred on this year’s theme “Gathering diversities.” Take in innovative cultural programming, the first all-women Big Thinking lineup, and much more.

See for yourself why the University of Regina is known as a leader in Indigenization.

Visit the stunning First Nations University of Canada campus, designed by renowned architect Douglas Cardinal, engage with Indigenous scholars and students, and explore how education can contribute to reconciliation.

Take advantage of this year’s Graduate Student Travel Awards.

This year only, graduate students are eligible to receive up to $500 toward residence accommodation, on-campus meals and other conference expenses.

Save with competitive campus and hotel accommodations ranging from $64 to $200 per night and convenient shuttle transportation to and from campus.
