

Report for Thomas B. Greenfield Doctoral Dissertation Award Committee

Chair, Dr. Shelleyann Scott

19/6/2020

This was a particularly difficult decision with five excellent theses being submitted this year and many that highlighted how crucial leadership studies is becoming in different sectors and contexts. All were extremely high quality which was both a delight and a made for a complex adjudication.

Our winner of the 2020 Thomas B. Greenfield Doctoral Dissertation Award is:

Dr. Daniel April

For this thesis: Supervision pédagogique en contexte de gestion axée sur les résultats: pratiques de membres de la direction d'établissement d'enseignement accompagnés en communauté d'apprentissage

English: (Pedagogical supervision within a results-based management context: Practices of school principals involved in learning communities)

Congratulations to Daniel's supervisor: Dr. Yamina Bouchamma for her excellent supervision efforts.

Many thanks to each of the committee members on their reading of each thesis and particularly to Dr. Ken Brien who joined the committee to be able to evaluate in both English and French.

- Greenfield Committee – Chair, Dr. Shelleyann Scott, University of Calgary
- Dr. Carmen Mombourquette, University of Lethbridge
- Dr. Abdoulaye Anne, University of Laval (Francophone member)
- Dr. Peng Liu, University of Manitoba
- Dr. Stephanie Tuters, Brock University
- Dr. Ken Brien, University of New Brunswick (Anglophone and Francophone member)

Additionally, a special thank you to Dr. Ken Brien who joined the committee to provide final adjudication across the Anglophone and Francophone theses. His support was particularly appreciated.