

Simon Fraser University

Vice-Provost and Associate Vice-President, Learning and Teaching

Simon Fraser University (SFU) is for the fourth consecutive year ranked by the Maclean's University Ranking Guide as Canada's leading comprehensive university and it has held first or second place for nearly a decade. SFU has also been recognized by the Times Higher Education World University Ranking as one of Canada's top 10 research universities. With unique campuses in Vancouver, Burnaby and Surrey, SFU has deep roots in partner communities throughout the Province of British Columbia and around the world.

SFU aims to become Canada's leading engaged university through innovative education, cutting-edge research and community outreach. In line with these key institutional aims SFU now seeks to appoint a Vice-Provost and Associate Vice-President, Learning and Teaching (AVPLT) who will be responsible for advancing innovation and excellence in learning and teaching across the University, and for leading the coordination and implementation of support offered to students, faculty, staff and communities to deliver diverse and flexible learning and teaching environments.

Reporting to the Vice-President, Academic and Provost, this exciting new position and portfolio requires close collaboration with senior leadership across campus, especially the Deans, the Vice-Provost and Associate Vice-President, Academic, and the Vice-Provost and Associate Vice-President, Students and International. The position will oversee a number of centres, institutes and other units with responsibilities for advancing teaching and learning, delivery of flexible and transformative education, support for academic programming, and curricular and co-curricular initiatives.

For further information, a full position description and application details, please visit www.perrettlaver.com/candidates quoting reference 3251. The closing date for applications is 12 noon (Pacific Time) on Wednesday 6th December 2017.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply, however Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. Simon Fraser University is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from all qualified candidates of all genders, including indigenous peoples, visible minorities, and persons with disabilities.
