Tenure-track Position in Counselling Psychology
Indigenous or Visible Minority Scholar

The University of Victoria is a top-ranked research university located on the territories of the Lekwungen and SENĆOŦEN speaking peoples on Vancouver Island. UVic is known for its large and diverse group of Indigenous faculty and staff originating from local communities and around the world.

The Department of Educational Psychology and Leadership Studies (EPLS) invites applications from Indigenous peoples and members of visible minorities for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the area of Counselling Psychology to begin July 1, 2019, or as negotiated. The successful applicant will join our CACEP accredited Counselling Psychology program in a dynamic, collegial department supported by dedicated staff. Our department is committed to high quality and responsive programs and research with both on-campus and community-based delivery models. We also offer our Indigenous Communities Counselling Psychology (ICCP) program -- the first and, to date, only graduate program in Canada that focuses on Indigenous counselling and healing and meets professional counselling certification requirements.

Requirements:

- Doctoral degree in counselling psychology by the time of appointment
- Minimum 1-year (1600 hour) internship
- Experience with Indigenous learners/communities and/or minority learners/communities
- Post-secondary teaching experience
- Excellent record of scholarly achievement, relative to stage of career
- Demonstrated commitment to collegiality, collaborative scholarship and teaching

Strong Assets:

- Registered or eligible for registration with the College of Psychologists of BC
- Certification or eligible for certification with Canadian Counselling and Psychotherapy Association (CCPA)
- Experience supervising graduate student practica
- Demonstrated expertise in at least two of the following areas:
 - Child and adolescent counselling and development
 - Career development and counselling
 - Counselling skills training
 - Counselling theories
 - Decolonizing methodologies
 - Indigenous research methodologies
 - Assessment in counselling practice
 - Social justice and anti-oppressive practices

The individual would be expected to:

- Contribute to the development of a vibrant counselling psychology program at both the graduate and undergraduate levels
- Develop and maintain an active program of research and scholarly work
- Teach graduate and undergraduate courses
- Supervise graduate student research
- Supervise graduate student practica and internships

In accordance with the University's Equity Plan and pursuant to Section 42 of the BC Human Rights Code, candidate selection will be limited to Indigenous peoples and visible minorities. Applicants from these two limited groups must self-identify in their cover letter, as part of their application package.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Interested applicants will provide:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- Graduate program transcripts (Masters, Doctoral, Post-doc)
- Teaching dossier complete with evaluations and a summary of achievements over the past 3 years, relevant to the position.
- The names and contact information for 3 referees, sent directly and confidentially to the Chair of the Department.

Only short-listed applicants will be contacted.

Applications must be received by January 2, 2019. Send to:
